MONTHLY ARCHIVES: JANUARY 2019

LONDON IN 1666

We have been learning all about what objects and buildings were around at the time of the Great Fire of London. We have looked at how the houses would have been built and how these would have set on fire easily.

Then we talked about what things people would have used to put out the fire, like fire hooks and leather buckets.

CREATING SOME GREAT FIRE ARTWORK!

Today we thought about what the fire of London would have looked like when it began in 1666. We described lots of scenes, using adjectives to describe the setting. Then we used our senses to explore the smells and sounds.

We created some amazing artwork based on colour wash and silhouettes of the London skyline in 1666.

Take a look!
