INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC

Posted on January 25, 2020 by birdwellmisscarter under Uncategorized

RECEPTION CLASS WERE LUCKY ENOUGH TO HAVE AN INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC. THEY were taught about different instruments and how they make different sounds.

Mr Dodd played lots of disney songs for the class – some favourites were ‘tale as old as time’ and ‘let it go’ (see the video)

Thank you!!

NAUGHTY GERMS

Posted on January 22, 2020 by birdwellmisscarter under Uncategorized

WE HAVE HAD A LOT OF COLDS AND SICKNESS IN OUR CLASS SO WE SPENT SOME time learning about germs and how they spread.

We did the glitter experiment to demonstrate to the children just how easily germs spread. We noticed if we washed our hands with soap then nearly all the glitter came off – rinsing or wiping our hands did not get rid of the glitter.

Some of the girls pretending to be witches!

“I am making mud soup!”

Looking for mini beasts...

We always have a healthy snack. When we have apples we leave the cores in the bug hotel so the mini beasts can have some too!

WELCOME TO OUR NEW TOPIC: FROZEN!

Our new reading igloo has been very popular – this is a place for children to ‘chill’, read a book and chat with friends.
